SAGES 2021: Earn CME Credit with ADOPT Hands-On Courses

ADOPT Hands-On: Botherome Biliary and Galling Gallbladders - Expanding the Surgical Toolbox

Tuesday, August 31, 2021, 2:00 – 6:00 PM

*EARN UP TO 20 CME FOR THIS HANDS-ON COURSE!

Surgeons who take call or work in acute care know the feeling: you start out the case thinking things are normal, and then all of a sudden you are thinking, "how am I going to get out of this situation?!" Challenging cases require us to feel confident in all of our surgical options.

This course will be personally customized to each learners' goals and experience, and will include the principles of safe chole, CBD exploration, and injury prevention.

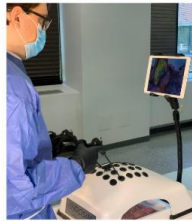

The ratio in the course will be 2:1 attendee:faculty.

Register for the annual meeting and add this Hands on Course. Learn more at <https://www.sages2021.surgery/>

ADOPT Hands-On: Roux-en-Y to the Rescue

Wednesday, September 1, 2021 1:30 - 5:30 PM

EARN UP TO 20 CME FOR THIS HANDS-ON COURSE!

DESCRIPTION: Surgeons continue to see more patients who require revisional bariatric surgery like a gastric bypass after sleeve gastrectomy or for salvage operations for recurrent hiatal hernia. Bariatric surgeons who completed their fellowship within the previous 5 or 10 years may not have had as much opportunity to learn the subtle techniques and elements that lead to a safe gastric bypass. This course will follow the SAGES ADOPT curriculum with a personalized 4 hour hand-on course with a 2:1 attendee:faculty ratio, followed by a year long mentorship with ongoing individual and group virtual interactions to improve adoption of the learned procedure.

Register for the annual meeting and add this Hands on Course. Learn more at <https://www.sages2021.surgery/>

Non-member subscriptions are also available for purchase via CineMed.

Caroline Reinke MD, MSHP, FACS
General Surgeon
Atrium Health, Carolinas Medical Center

SAGES Member Spotlight Dr. Caroline Reinke

Dr. Caroline Reinke joined SAGES as a resident at the University of Pennsylvania on the recommendation of Dr. Kenric Murayama. She remembers that in addition to his praise of the society as a leader in surgical care, he specifically made the point that SAGES was one of the most diverse and inclusive surgical societies.

"Dr. Murayama was right!," says Dr. Reinke. "I've enjoyed every year of membership and the many opportunities I've participated in over the last decade--including networking, learning, presenting and having FUN. I love meeting surgeons who practice across a variety of settings and I really enjoy the annual meeting."

Dr. Reinke, who previously served on the Resident Education Committee, is currently chair of SAGES Conflict of Interest (COI) committee and member of the Acute Care Surgery (ACS) committee.

ASCRS Releases Rectal Cancer Surgery Module

The American Society of Colon and Rectal Surgeons (ASCRS) has released the web-based Fundamentals of Rectal Cancer Surgery (FRCS) which is designed to educate surgeons and surgical trainees about rectal cancer surgery. To learn more, please go here.

SAGES Splenectomy Guideline Available for Public Comment

The SAGES Guidelines Committee has completed its guideline for the use of Guidelines for the Performance of Minimally Invasive Splenectomy. This document was prepared and revised by the SAGES Guidelines Committee with input from surgeons, hematologists and methodologists. This document has been reviewed and approved by the SAGES Board of Governors.

This document is now available for public review and comment by SAGES members before submitting it for publication. You will need to log in to your SAGES membership account to access the content and comment form. Please provide all comments by July 31 here.
